COUNTY AGENT ARRANGES FARM BUREAU EXHIBIT.
F. C. Warner Put in a Busy Sunday at the Fair Grounds.

County Agent F. C. Warner was busy all day Sunday making the final arrangements for the farm bureau exhibit at the fair grounds. A large part of the exhibit is devoted to dairy interests, with better bulls as the object. Lloyd Ayer's 2,000 pound Holstein bull will be there, and alongside the big Holstein will be a poor one of the same grade. This of course is to contrast the high grade bull with the low grade animal.

Assistant County Agent Witham will be there to test free for dairymen samples of milk, searching out the butter fat and also for soy bean and corn growing in boxes and clover grass and alfalfa will be shown. Five cases, each six feet long and four feet high, will be devoted to a milk exhibit. Among the divisions of the exhibit will be the following: Good dairy rations, keep milk clean, where the conditions of dairies, food value of milk, here's milk milk (not water milk).

On the other side of the tent there will be four pens of poultry. Two have been provided by Fred Tourtellotte and there are five in each pen. In one pen are shown non-layers and the other layers. C. C. Hewitt has provided the other two pens. Three of the birds have been trapped for three years, three have been trapped for two years, two for one year, and there are shown two high producers and two low producers.

Prof. Warner of Storrs college, will be there to demonstrate and there will be a high P. K. Angus cow. Another feature which County Agent Warner has secured is an exhibit containing six of the pigs owned by county pig raisers. In addition to these there is arranged a juvenile department, home economics department, which will be in charge of Miss Nellie J. Gabel of the farm bureau, will be located in the Connecticut Agricultural college exhibit in a tent near the farm bureau tent.

NORWICH MOOSE DEFEATED THEIR WILLAMANTIC BROTHERS.
Local Lodge Carried Off Baseball Laurels at Annual Outing.

Over two hundred members and friends of Norwich, Conn. lodge, No. 950, L. O. O. M., went to Lincoln park Sunday, where the annual clambake of the lodge was enjoyed. The team which left the city at 9:20 by special trolley and upon arriving at the park entered into the activities of the day, of which the first feature was the ball game between the married men and the single. The game was won by the benedictines by an overwhelming score. The fat boys' race was won by Louis Wauwerick, who rolled along ahead of the field to a grand finish.

At noon an appetizing chowder was served which the members of the day of the day was the day of the day. The game between the Norwich lodge and the Moose from Willamantic. The local boys' race was won by Louis Wauwerick, who rolled along ahead of the field to a grand finish.

CONTINUING CHRIST'S WORK AIDED BY PRIESTS' RETREAT.
Clergy Better Able to Live Up to High Calling, Following Week of Meditation, Prayer and Reflection, Rev. Peter J. Cuny Tells Congregation.

The first week of the retreat of the Roman Catholic clergy of this diocese of Hartford was especially successful, Rev. Peter J. Cuny told the congregation at the 10:30 mass in St. Patrick's church Sunday. Over two hundred, chiefly of the junior priests being in attendance at Manresa institute, South Norwalk, for the exercises. The preacher stated that he felt sure much of this success resulted from the fervent prayers during the week on the part of the people of the diocese and the priests and curates attending. The coming week, about 140 clergymen who did not attend last week will assist at the solemn exercises.

A retreat, Father Cuny explained, is a time of recollection, meditation and prayer, when the priest puts aside all other considerations and enters into his own soul. It is akin to the missions held every three or four years for the people—missions being in reality a prolonged retreat. After such a period of seriousness and spiritual discipline the priest comes back to his duties strengthened and fortified. The preacher stated that he felt sure much of this success resulted from the fervent prayers during the week on the part of the people of the diocese and the priests and curates attending. The coming week, about 140 clergymen who did not attend last week will assist at the solemn exercises.

Yesterday was the fourteenth Sunday after Pentecost. The epistle for the Sunday was from Saint Paul to the Galatians, V. 16-24, beginning: "Brethren, walk in spirit and ye will not fulfil the lusts of the flesh" and the gospel was Matt. VI. 24-33, the Saviour's warning to his disciples of the impossibility of man's serving two masters.

Father Cuny preached on Heaven, that state about which theologians and poets have speculated through every age, and which is to be gained by keeping God's laws. He stated that the graces of the sacraments, and by being as happy as one can be on this earth.

SACRIFICE SALE NETTED TOTAL OF $304.
Entire Sum Will Go Towards County Home Economics Work.

The sacrifice sale and bazaar which was held on the Hotel Mohican roof garden, New London, Friday, Aug. 24, for the benefit of food conservation in New London county, brought in $304. As the expenses of the sale were met by a friend, the entire sum will go towards the $1,000 being raised in this county by the central war work committee of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage association, under whose auspices the sale was held.

MINISTER FINISHES BOOK—DIES AGED EIGHTY-FIVE

Rev. Dr. Charles W. Ray, Native of North Stonington, Works Till the Last, at Germantown, Penn.

The Philadelphia Inquirer of August 25th had the following notice of interest in Eastern Connecticut towns: "Busied up with enthusiasm until he had finished his last book on Christian life experience, under the title, 'Grandmother Says,' Rev. Charles Walker Ray, D. D., aged 85, died on Monday at the Germantown Hotel, Germantown, Penn."

On August 24 he wrote "Finito" to the work on which he was long engaged, and on August 27th he died, and the funeral will be held this afternoon. The chief mourner at the funeral will be the Rev. Dr. Ray's son, Harold S. Ray, of the War Department at Washington, whose home is in Des Moines, Iowa, and who came on to Philadelphia yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Ray was born in North Stonington, Conn., in 1832, and was educated at Hamilton College, New York, where he received the degree of doctor of divinity from Monongahela college. His first charge was at Pendleton Hill, Conn., his last charge as pastor of St. George's, N. J., and he was formerly pastor of Calvary Baptist church in this city.

The news of Rev. Dr. Ray's death brought sincere sorrow to his friends in and about Pendleton Hill, where the aged religious author was so well known, and where his pastoral work in early years had been so successful.
